

TCPalm

To print this page, select File then Print from your browser

URL: http://www.tcpalm.com/tcp/local_news/article/0,2545,TCP_16736_4768266,00.html

A look ahead at the week of June 12

June 12, 2006

School Board may audit land purchase

The Indian River School Board will decide Tuesday on authorizing an audit of last year's purchase of land for a new school. The meeting is scheduled for 7 p.m. at the school district office, 1990 25th St., Vero Beach. (772) 564-3200.

PSL to discuss proposed impact fee

Port St. Lucie City Council will consider adding a $2,081 impact fee on all new homes to fund a $70 million building to lure the Burnham Institute. The meeting is scheduled for 7 p.m. today at City Hall.

Conference to focus on conservation

The Martin County Soil and Water Conservation District is hosting a Wetlands Conference about the importance of conserving wetlands, 8:45 a.m. Friday at the Martin County Fairgrounds, 2616 Dixie Highway, Stuart. (772) 221-1303.

School Board conducting two workshops

The Martin County School Board will conduct two workshops today, both in the School Board Meeting Room. The alternative school workshop will be at 10 a.m., and the capital budget workshop at 10:30 a.m.

Hearing on grow house seizures today

A hearing is scheduled in circuit court at 1:30 p.m. today for six homes the city of Port St. Lucie is seeking to gain through forfeiture as part of its marijuana grow house investigation.

State law allows cash, vehicles, real estate and other property to be seized if it can be proven they were used in the commission of a felony or were gained through criminal proceeds. The hearing Monday will be to determine if there is probable cause for the city to seize the houses.

If probable cause is found, the homeowners are allowed to have jury trials to determine if the city should be able to seize their properties. The forfeiture proceedings are a civil matter separate from any criminal charges that are pending.

Commissioners to hear Sebastian Inlet plan

Sebastian Inlet District commissioners Wednesday will receive updates on the proposed installation of new channel markings at the inlet and on the channel extension project between the inlet and the Intracoastal Waterway. The meeting will be at 4 p.m. at the inlet offices at 114 Sixth Ave., Indialantic. Call (321) 724-5175.

Give input on golf course

The public is invited to present ideas on how Vero Beach officials can use the property of the former nine-hole Dodgertown Golf Course at a 3:30 p.m. Tuesday city Recreation Commission meeting. The meeting takes place in City Hall, 1053 20th Place. For more information, contact the clerk's office at (772) 978-4700.

Dolls & fairies

The live stage musical "Barbie Live in Fairytopia!" is up and running at 7 p.m. Tuesday, and 4 and 7 p.m. Wednesday at the King Center for the Performing Arts, 3865 N. Wickham Road, Melbourne, (321) 242-2219. Tickets $17.50-$37.50.

Rough 'n' ready rock

The acclaimed Arizona roots-rock 'n' roll band Roger Clyne & the Peacemakers starts the Maltz Jupiter Theatre's summer series with an 8 p.m. show Saturday, at 1001 E. Indiantown Road in Jupiter. Tickets are $18; call (800) 445-1666.

The Great White North

Stuart's Blake Library salutes Canada with this week's Celebration of International Culture. All events are free at 2351 S.E. Monterey Road, At 7 p.m. Wednesday: The Best of Canadian Short Films. At 7 p.m. Thursday: Photographer Dale Wilson's multimedia Canadian tour. At 8 p.m. Friday: Music by the Arrogant Worms. At 8 p.m. Saturday: Screening of the award-winning French-Canadian film "La Peau Blanche" ("White Skin"). Call (772) 221-1403.

Jammin' for kids

There will be 13 teen bands at Saturday's Summer Slam Jam, a drug- and alcohol-free party for Martin County young people from noon to 10:30 p.m. at Langford Park and the Rio/Jensen Skate Park, Jensen Beach. It's free for students; call (772) 463-2801.

Playin' the blues

Electric blues guitarist Albert Cummings brings his band to the Lyric Theatre for the third consecutive year at 7 p.m. Saturday. Tickets are $35; the theater is at 59 S.W. Flagler Ave. in Stuart. Call (772) 286-7827.

- Comments

Copyright 2006, TCPalm. All Rights Reserved.