Polk commission to decide on raising impact fees

June 18, 2006

Polk County commissioners will decide this week whether they will increase impact fees.

A consultant recommended that Polk implement a fire-service impact fee of $216 for a single-family home and a law-enforcement fee of $278 for a single-family home.

If approved, the charges would bring Polk County's total impact fees for a new single-family home to $20,436.

Commissioners will vote on the item during their board meeting Wednesday.

The meeting begins at 9 a.m. and will be at the Neil Combee Administration Building, 330 W. Church St. Bartow.

Amy L. Edwards of the Sentinel staff compiled this report.
