Marin supervisors will consider raising the affordable housing impact fee for new and remodeled single-family homes at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday in Room 330 of the Civic Center in San Rafael.

A new fee of $5 per square foot would be established for homes between 2,000 and 3,000 square feet, and the fee would increase from $5 to $10 per square foot on homes 3,000 square feet or greater.

In addition, the board will consider a joint powers agreement for the "Marin Clean Energy" community choice aggregation project to purchase electricity and sell it to Marin customers.
