

Real estate brief

BY INMAN NEWS, WEDNESDAY, MAY 27, 2009. Inman News

Comments

Email

Reprint Rights

Community Guidelines

Bookmarking Sites

del.icio.us

digg

newsvine

reddit

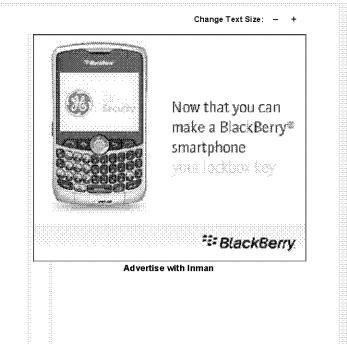

stumbleupon

Nation's Building News, a National Association of Home Builders publication, notes that some government agencies are rolling back development-related impact fees in an effort to attract construction and stimulate local economies.

The city of Fremont, Calif., in April lowered its impact fees by 75 percent, for example, according to the article, and city officials in Eagle Lake, Fla., waived impact fees within the city's Community Redevelopment Area, according to the report.

The association has published for members an "Impact Fee Rollback Resource

You must login or register to post a comment.

Headlines

Most Recent Most Comments Most Emailed

'Junk' fee or necessity?

Builders promote fee rollbacks

Prices continue descent, but there's still...

Multigenerational lead generation

One house, multiple personalities

Getting over real estate grief

Big shoes to fill in customer service

Buying home under the influence

Zillow's hottest new tools for real estate

New ground for mortgage rates

Categories

Agent advice Buying & Selling

Home Improvement

Investing

Investing & Perso...

Markets & Economy

Mortgages Real Estate & Per...

Real estate broke...

Real estate techn...

Rentals

International

Similar

Single-family activity up amidst record lows

Builder confidence index rises 5 points

Builder confidence remains near record low

Housing starts fall to record lows

Builder confidence still sagging

News Archive

May 2009

April 2009

March 2009

February 2009

January 2009

December 2008

November 2008

October 2008

September 2008

August 2008

..........

July 2008

June 2008

Helping create successful homeowners

Bankof America

Bome Loans

Book of America, N.A., Member (SIC) Six Sayor Reacking Lander, ARROLLS

Ads by Google V V

Real Estate Websites

RI Offices for Lease - Class A Executive Center